

describeApplication

describeCommand

describeInputDefinition

```
graph LR; A[describeApplication] --> C[describeInputDefinition]; B[describeCommand] --> C;
```

The diagram illustrates a dependency or relationship where two functions, 'describeApplication' and 'describeCommand', both point to a single function, 'describeInputDefinition'. The arrows indicate a flow from the left-hand functions to the right-hand function.